

5.30pm Special guests The Blackhorse and Standard Women's North West Morris will close the event with some dancing.	Entertainment provided by The 123s, Scottee, and Chopin. Fat Queer Harvest Hymn Singing.
5pm Competition and silent auction winners announced.	Raffle draw.
4.30pm the Diet Bin of Doom.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Donate unwanted weight loss paraphernalia to Buy raffle tickets and win amazing prizes. * Enter competitions with your home-made jams, and tattime) and vegetable monsters. * Enter competitions with your home-made jams, chutneys, decorated cupcakes, cakes (fancy tea-drinking and our wonderful stalls. * Art, activities, conversation, displays, eating, information, marvelling and mingling, poetry, * Art, activities, conversation, displays, eating,
2.4.30pm Guest of Honour BJ will open The Fat of the Land.	2pm

Schedule

Thanks to...

56a Infoshop, Alison Henry, Allyson Mitchell, Anna Small, Becky Sanchez, BJ, Blackhorse and Standard Women's North West Morris, Blackwells, Charley Stone, Charlotte Cooper, Chopin Gard, Corinna Tomrley, DIVA, Emli Bendixen, Fat Studies UK, Health At Every Size UK, Jason Elvis, Kate Harding, Katie D, Katy Hathaway, Kay Hyatt, Lady Lucy, Laura Brightwell, Linda Bacon, Lindsay River, Liz Willows, Lizzie Guinness, Lucy Aphramor, Mike Wyeld, Sachi Nehra at Naughty and Nice Cakes, Nazmia Jamal, NOLOSE, Ochi Reyes, Paper Dinosaur, Phoebe Coulton, Raw Nerve Books, Re/Dress NYC, Scottee, Simon Murphy, St Anne's, www.adipositivity.com, Susan Stinson, The Savage, The Bops, Tom O'Tottenham, Tracey Hancock, Victoria Yeulet, What Will the Harvest Be?, www.obesitytimebomb.blogspot.com, Zemirah Moffatt, our friends and everyone who gave us publicity, miscellaneous help and, most importantly, encouragement*.

Questions, comments and feedback please!
queerinstitute@gmail.com

Fat of the Land updates and information
<http://queerchub.blogspot.com>

* Apologies if your name has been missed, this is because of frazzled minds and forgetfulness, not ingratitude.

In March 2009 the London Lesbian and Gay Film Festival at the British Film Institute hosted Invasion of The Chubsters. It was a sell-out show, people dancend in the aisles, there were even tears of joy. This event was not the only expression of fat queer community and activism in the capital but, for many of us who were involved, it sparked a realisation that London could handle some more queer chub action.

So the Fat of the Land is about celebrating good food and making things, whilst building complex, friendly, mixed community. We recognise the value of fat queer bodies, history and culture, of ground and body types to enter into the conversation.

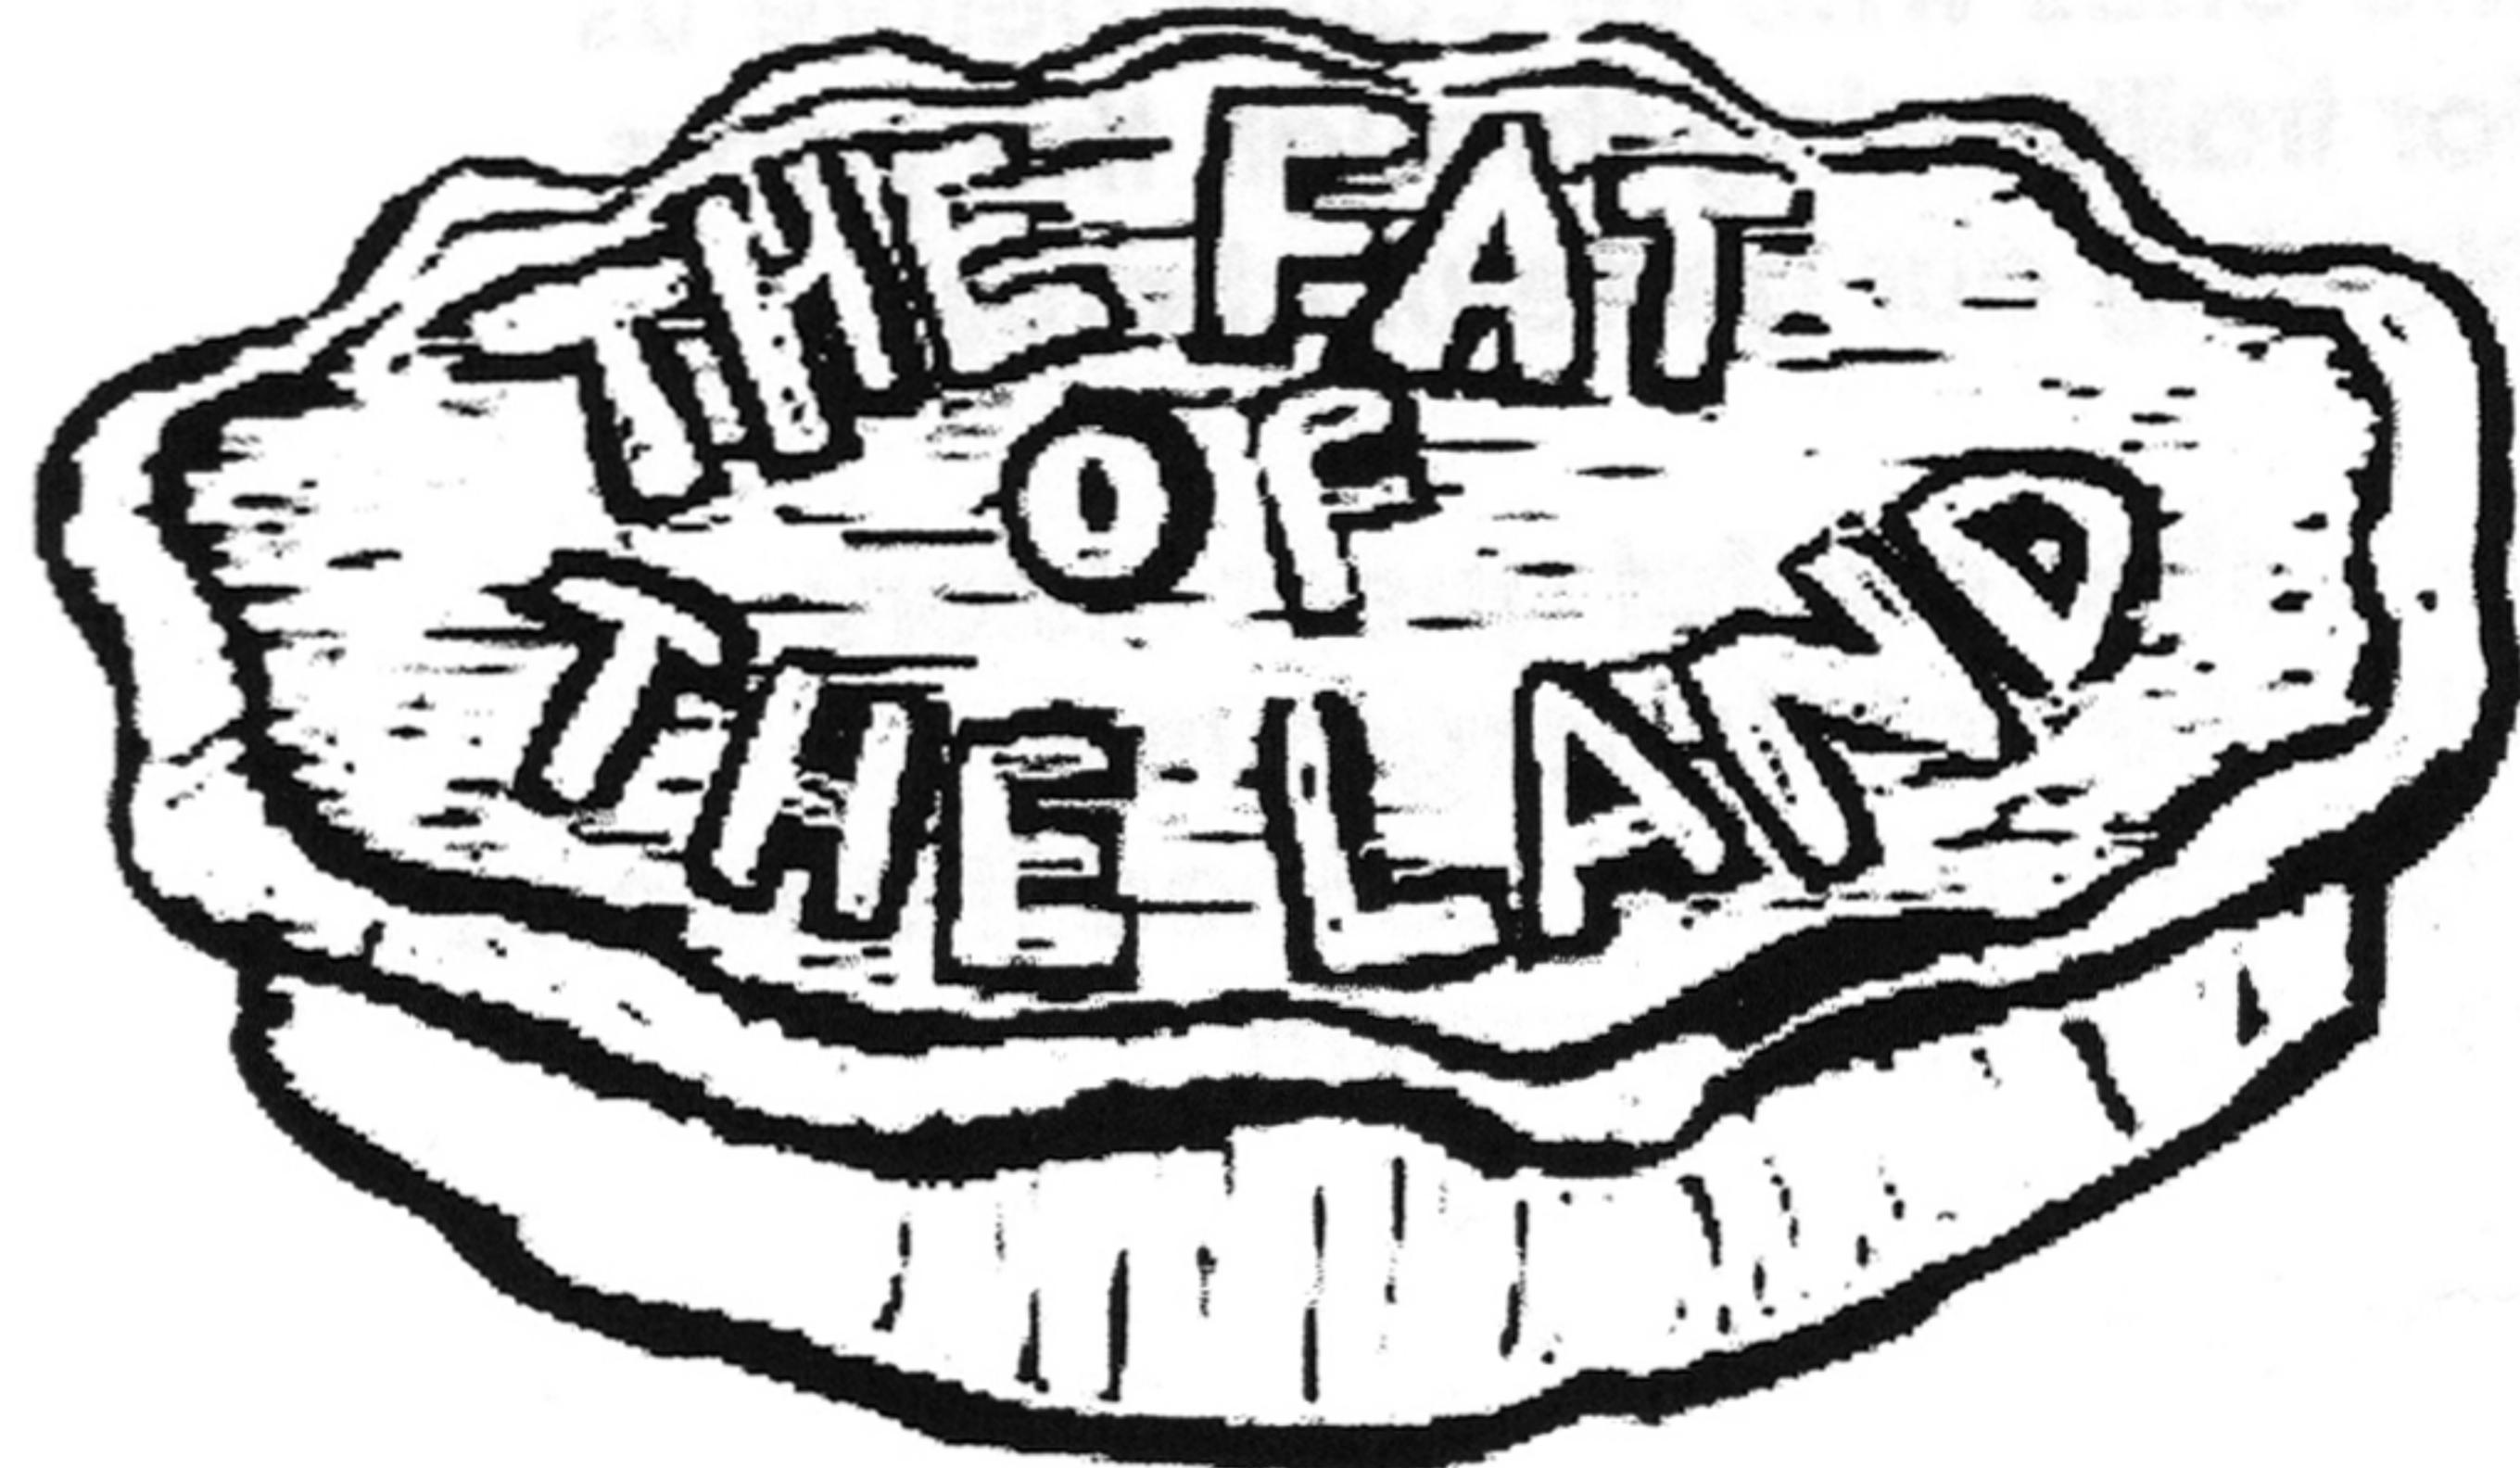

The Queer Institute, up until now a mythic beast, proposed a bigger event. Bill Savage joined in. Cooper plus Jason Baker and Nazmia Jamal of Make a Zine called Big Bums. This year Charlotte NOLOSE helped us with their Small Projects Across the Land grants. In 2008 they gave some of us to NOLOSE helped us with their Small Projects Across the Land grants. In 2008 they gave some of us to

COLLEGE helped us with their Small Projects Across the Land grants. In 2008 they gave some of us to transfabulous, who celebrated trans art and culture, proposed a bigger event. Bill Savage joined in. The Queer Institute, up until now a mythic beast, also loaned some cash. Lots of people

Volunteered help. Thanks to them, up to the

Welcome

The Fat of the Land: A Queer Chub Harvest Festival

3 October 2009, 2-6pm
St Annes, 55 Dean Street, London

Programme

The Fat Queer Harvest Hymn

A harvest festival needs a harvest festival hymn. We thought it would be unlikely that the usual songbooks would have a hymn specifically for queer fatties, we decided to write one ourselves especially for The Fat of the Land.

The idea behind the Fat Queer Harvest Hymn is that it gives thanks for the past, present and future of queer chub life. It could be something that we sing to ourselves or with our friends when we need a bit of cheering up or encouragement.

We will be singing the Fat Queer Harvest Hymn all together today at about 5pm, after the competition winners have been announced. The 123s will teach everyone the tune. Why not join in too? Don't worry if you don't think you're a good singer, you can hum it if you like, let's just make some noise.

Fat Queer Harvest Hymn

by The 123s, London, July 2009

chorus: So thanks to all the fatty queers
The ones who've come before us
For trailblazing through the years
We sing our grateful chorus

Let's start our fat queer history
With The Fat Underground
The FaT GiRL zine defined the scene
And BJ won her crown

(chorus)

Community is strong today
With NOLOSE at the top
The Chubster Gang, Mike and Chopin,
Beth Ditto and The Bop

(chorus)

We don't know what the future holds
Some people think we're wrong
The tree we've planted will bear fruit
As long as we are strong

(chorus, with extra gusto)

Who are these people?

Here's a little crib sheet to help you along.

The Fat Underground

A bunch of rad fatties who organised, protested and published in the 1970s and early 80s in the US
<http://tinyurl.com/fatunderground>

FaT GiRL

A zine (a homemade magazine) 'For Fat Dykes and the Women Who Want Them'. Copies still available from:
<http://maxairborne.etsy.com>

BJ

A muse to artists and fashion designers and an inspiration to all. Won the inaugural Miss Lesbian Beauty Competition, organised by fat queer celebrity Amy Lamé in 1997.

NOLOSE

A vibrant community of fat dykes/lesbians, bisexual women, transgendered folks, and allies, seeking to end the oppression of fat people!
www.nolose.org

The Chubster Gang

A wacked-out fat queer girl gang.
www.chubstergang.com

Mike and Chopin

Big, fat, bear-y supporters of everything alternative, DIY, queer and creative.

Beth Ditto

Mega-famous singer with The Gossip. An icon.

The Bop

Unskinny Bop, an East London nightclub, incubator of fat queer community, home to the best DJs in the world.
www.unskinnybop.co.uk

Which fat queers are your heroes? Whose names would you add to the Fat Queer Harvest Hymn? Why not write your own verse or sing your own version? We'll put it on the FotL blog.